Atlantic Coast Storm - Oct. 26-30, 1842 Charleston Gale noticed on Oct. 29-30th, but little damage was reported St. Augustine Gale on Oct. 26th described as "severe", but not as severe as the storm on the 5th. Very little damage reported. This is the final tropical storm of 1842, which occurred along the Atlantic Coast of Florida and and the Carolinas in late October. No serious damage was reported in either St. Augustine 140 Miles or Charleston.