

The Great Hurricane of 1846 - Oct. 13-14 - Part III

Damage from the hurricane was observed in Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York. (Roth and Cobb)

Alexandria
The Potomac River reached its highest height in 20 years. Tides in Washington rose to nearly 7 feet above the low water mark. (Roth and Cobb)

Please see Part IV for a description of the storm's effects on the northeast U.S.

