Do you want a career using the latest technologies?
Do you want to learn interactively from anywhere?
Do you want a truly digital life?

Florida State University’s iSchool is the place for you!

Why Florida State?
Career-oriented courses
Flexible learning options
Great national reputation

A Master of Science in Information Technology (MSIT) from Florida iSchool, ranked #13 nationally by U.S. News and World Report, meets the current high-demand for well-trained technology leaders.

Florida iSchool offers cutting-edge learning opportunities that are sure to lead you to the career you’ve been seeking. With a MSIT, you will be considered a leader in your field. Florida State’s Information Technology program offers a huge variety of classes, many of them delivered interactively online. Visit our website to learn more.

Florida State's IT Program:
21st-century learning for a 21st-century career

What will I learn?
With your MSIT degree from Florida iSchool, you will use strategic information and technology planning to demonstrate a solid business skill. You’ll develop proficiency in managing people and technology.

MSIT experiences teach students to:
• Apply information technology innovatively
• Manage information purposefully
• Communicate effectively
• Work ethically and productively with people

Admission Guidelines
To learn more about admission to Florida’s iSchool, visit slis.fsu.edu or scan the QR code.

Florida’s
School of Information @ Florida State University

Learn more: slis.fsu.edu • Contact: slisgradadvising@admin.fsu.edu